

Harbor Drayage and Intermodal

DHE specializes in import/export container drayage to and from all California ports, intermodal shipping, and transloading.

With facilities in the Southern California overweight corridor, we can quickly meet any requirement you have for handling overweight import/export containers. Our asset-based harbor and intermodal division handle all nationwide drayage moves for containers coming from or going to West Coast seaports. In addition to container drayage, we specialize in complex multiple-hub cargo moves through multimodal transportation strategies with complete warehousing and distribution services via our warehousing division.
